Landscaping course at PSU

Penn State Wilkes-Barre will offer a landscaping course through Dec. 8 for garden enthusiasts aspiring to design their own landscape. The course will focus on residential landscape techniques and styles covering implementation, ground covers and lawns, themes, selecting plant material, and completion of plans. Landscape Design will be offered on Saturdays from 8:30-11:30 at the campus in Lehman. Other upcoming horticulture courses include Annuals, Perennials & Specialty Gardens beginning January 19, 2002 and Backyard Fruit & Vegetable Gardening beginning March 9, 2002. For more information on any of the horticulture courses, or to register for Landscape Design, call Ina K. Lubin at 675-9251 or e-mail: wbce@cde.psu.edu.

Brightening a veteran's Thanksgiving

Lehman-Jackson Elementary School's first graders made placemats for area veterans. Mrs. Helene Dainowski's class hopes the placemats will brighten up holiday meals for the veterans. Second row: Sierra Pall, Carla Kahler, Thomas Donovan, Megan Davis, and Kayley Bedford. Third row: Brittaney Werkheiser, Brandon Kelley, Bryar Raspén, Dean Gregory, Thomas Boyle, Brianna Headman, and Mrs. Helene Dainowski.

Trinity Learning Center celebrated Fire Prevention week

In honor of Fire Prevention Week, the Trucksville Fire Department visited the students at Trinity Learning Center in Dallas. Firefighters Sean Mullen and Skip Davis talked to the children about the dangers of fire and what should be done in case of a fire at home or at school. Firefighters demonstrated their equipment and gear worn in fighting fires.

Griffin, Rogers accepted to Honors College at IUP

Two Dallas students have accepted enrollment in the Robert E. Cook Honors College at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. The admissions committee at the RECHC selects around 100 students for admission each year based on a holistic scale that weighs a student's essays, recommendations, activities and community involvement. "These students and their parents have every right to be proud," said director Dr. Janet E. Goebel. "Gaining acceptance into this selective program shows that they have already achieved a high level of success."

Lee Griffin of Dallas, son of S.

Larry Griffin and Sara-Jane Snyder, is a 2001 graduate of Dallas High School and is enrolled at IUP in the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics. In high school, Griffin was an Eagle Scout in Boy Scouts, a member of the National Honor Society, participated in the Science Olympiad and ran cross-country and track. His honors and awards include the Pennsylvania Certificate of Merit for SAT scores and the Certificate of National Educational Development.

Christopher Rogers, son of Robert and Robin Rogers of Dallas, is a 2000 graduate of Lake-Lehman High School. Before graduation and enrollment at IUP as an Accounting major, Rogers was a member of the soccer, cross-country, wrestling and track and field teams. He was also inducted into the National Honor Society and earned designation as a High Honors Student. The Robert E. Cook Honors College is a combination residential-academic honors college that was formed through a generous donation by IUP alumnus Robert E. Cook. Students are involved in standard IUP classes as well as an intensive honors curriculum that utilizes critical thinking, writing skills, synthesis and group work.

CM Sport Management program to accept LCCC grads

Luzerne County Community College, Nanticoke, PA (LCCC) and College Misericordia recently completed an articulation agreement to allow LCCC's Associate's Degree in Business Administration to be accepted as credit in Misericordia's innovative Sport Management program.

This agreement provides for the transfer of LCCC's Associate of Science degree in its entirety, usually granting a student junior status in the Sport Management program. This will enable the student to complete their Bachelor of Science degree in approximately 60 credits.

"There are many employment opportunities in the sport management field and the business of sport continues to grow at a tremendous rate," said Deron Grabel, director of the Sport Management program at Misericordia. "This agreement will allow students with a strong business education background to continue their studies toward a bachelor's degree and a career in the world of sport."

The Sport Management major is one of College Misericordia's newest programs in the Division of Behavioral Science, Education and Business. Graduates of the program earn a Bachelor of Science in Sport Management after completing courses in business administration, specialized sport courses, and a rigorous liberal arts core curriculum.

Sport management graduates achieve professional positions with a variety of sport organizations including professional sport franchises, college and university athletic departments, public and private recreation facilities and sport marketing firms.

Sport management majors, working in conjunction with College Misericordia's Insalaco Center for Career Development, take advantage of a wide range of internship opportunities. Misericordia Sport Management students intern with a variety of sport organizations including the Scranton/Wilkes-Barre Red Barons, Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins, Philadelphia Phillies, and the Baltimore Orioles.

For more information about the sport management program, call or e-mail Grabel at 674-6287 or dgrabel@misericordia.edu. The College Misericordia Admissions department can be reached at either 1-866-262-6363 or admiss@misericordia.edu.

Master Gardener Program takes applications

Penn State Cooperative Extension in Luzerne County is now accepting applications for the 2002 Penn State Master Gardener Program. This program consists of a volunteer training course designed to provide experienced home gardeners with the information and skills necessary to share their experience and knowledge with others. Weekly classes will be held from 1-4 p.m. beginning February 5 and ending April 9, 2002.

In exchange for 30 hours of indoor instruction, candidates must agree to donate 50 hours of volunteer service to Penn State Cooperative Extension within the first year. Volunteer activities might include conducting garden clinics, demonstration gardens, answering home horticulture calls in our office, educational exhibits at various shows or fairs, working with 4-H youth, speaking at a community, church, or civic club, and the list goes on. There is a $45 fee to cover the cost of the training manual and other materials. Applications are being accepted through December 7.

For more information contact the Luzerne County Cooperative Extension at 825-1701, 602-0600 or toll free at 1-888-825-1701.
