

Misericordia offers information for transfers, adults

College Misericordia will host a special information session for prospective transfer and adult students on Wednesday, April 3 from 6 to 8 p.m.

The event, to be held in the McGowan Conference Center of the Mary Kintz Bevevino Library, is open to any prospective transfer student or adult learner interested in obtaining more information about College Misericordia's undergraduate and graduate programs. The event is also open to persons who simply have general questions about entering or returning to college.

Guests can drop in at their convenience and speak with representatives from admissions, adult education, financial aid and Misericordia's faculty. Common topics include: equitable credit transfer; credit for life experiences (CLEP); financial aid eligibility; evening and weekend class schedules; accelerated formats (Expressway); certificate programs; and on-line courses.

Please register by calling Glenn Bozinski, director of Transfer Recruitment, at 674-6434, by e-mail at admiss@misericordia.edu or toll free at 1-866-CM and Me (866-262-6363).

Program for web stars at PSU

A new certificate program for web professionals featuring design and multimedia techniques used to enhance web development skills will begin this spring at Penn State Wilkes-Barre. The certificate is designed for individuals who have completed the Foundation Web Professional Certificate or those with a working knowledge of Internet technology, HTML, and Javascript.

Classes will meet evenings beginning in April. Instructor, Eric Nardone, is a professional web design consultant and holds a master's degree in Instructional Technologies.

An open house will be held at the campus Center for Technology on Tuesday, March 26 at 7 p.m. The specifics of the certificate will be explained and course instructor will be on hand to answer questions.

Please call 675-9102 or e-mail jqr8@psu.edu for reservations or more information. Enrollment is limited.

Computer offerings at Penn State Wilkes-Barre

The spring 2002 series of computer workshops at Penn State Wilkes-Barre offers training for anyone interested in more effective and efficient use of computers. Courses in Word, Excel, and Access 2002 are available at the campus and at Penn State Wilkes-Barre's off-campus location at 1150 Wyoming Ave., Wyoming. Courses in computer basics, Windows, web development, Powerpoint 2002, Visual Basic, and Photoshop are available at the campus.

For more information or to register for classes, please contact Estella Killian at Penn State Wilkes-Barre's Center for Quality Continuing Education and Training at 675-9117 or e-mail wbce@cde.psu.edu.
