nity with young students, and be able to look, feel and understand what they are going through, before they even know what is happening," said Dallas Superintendent Gilbert Griffiths. "A loss like this is felt throughout the district, and what we have to do is replace them with the most qualified teachers, and then hope to train them over the next five years to get them back to where the senior teachers are that are leaving."

"Each of them takes a little piece of the district with them when they leave. We hope that is a good piece they have."

The board also recognized the Dallas Middle School Jazz band, Writing Magazine National Award winner Kaitlynn Peters, the Middle School Science Olympiad team and Michael Yenason, who attended the Presidential Classroom Business Program in Washington D.C.

The Jazz Band recently returned from a trip to Disneyworld where they performed at a concert.

Peters is the second Writing Magazine National Award winner at the school, and had her non-fiction article published in the magazine, while the Science Olympiad team finished a best-ever ninth in the event. The team has competed in the event in each of the last three years.

In other business:
•The board voted unanimously to appoint Attorney Benjamin Jones III as solicitor for the school district for the 2002-03 school year. PNC Bank will serve as treasurer.

•The board also accepted the resignation of Nancy Shaw, head field hockey coach. Cynthia Maier has been named head coach.
