Sem PAI presents summer music

A variety of musical and theater productions are planned for the Performing Arts Institute at Wyoming Seminary's Upper School.

Summer is the time when residents of the Wyoming Valley can delight in hearing teachers, guest artists and students perform in a diverse concert series for the public. It's all part of a busy season of the Performing Arts Institute (PAI) at Wyoming Seminary Upper School, which will present a series of free, high quality performances in July and August.

At least four performances will be featured each week. Wind Ensemble and Jazz Band Concerts will be held every Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the Buckingham Performing Arts Center, North Sprague Ave., Kingston. On Saturday evenings, Chamber Orchestras and Choral Ensembles will perform at 8 p.m. in the Great Hall, 228 Wyoming Ave., just north of Kingston Corners.

Now celebrating its fourth year, PAI draws about 200 talented high school students from across the country and around the world for an intensive, three- to six-week learning experience in instrumental and vocal music, theater and dance. A broad array of performances, ranging from large and small instrumental and vocal ensembles to student and faculty recitals, guest artist concerts, and full-scale dance and musical theater productions will be featured over the six-week intensive session. Conductors, teachers, and performers work and play alongside the students in ensembles, teaching them in the classroom, demonstrating technique, and inspiring them.

A highlight of the season will be a student performance of "Les Miserables" on August 8 and 9. The season will culminate with a Grand Finale at 7 p.m. Saturday, August 10, with performances in the Great Hall and the Buckingham Performing Arts Center.

For further information, or to hear the quality of PAI's performances, call Wyoming Seminary at 270-2186 or visit the PAI website at www.wyomingseminary.org/pai.

Royal Swing Orchestra will play 'Under the Stars'

College Misericordia will present the swinging sounds of The Royal Swing Orchestra on Monday, July 8 at the First Union Amphitheater on the College Misericordia campus. The Jazz in July performance is part of the college's "Under the Stars" summer arts program. The program begins at 8 p.m.

Directed by Dick Lowenthal, The Royal Swing Orchestra performs all of the classics from the wwing era, including many songs made famous by Duke Ellington, Count Basie, Benny Goodman, Glenn Miller, Stan Kenton and others. The orchestra also offers a selection of music from the 1950s through the 1990s. Swing era hits scheduled to be performed on July 8 include "In the Mood," "Take the A Train," "Let's Dance," "Stompin' at the Savoy," "Moonlight Serenade," "Drum Boogie" and many more.

Lowenthal, the orchestra's conductor and musical director, has performed with many of the top entertainers in pop, jazz and Big Band. He brings over 30 years of experience to the orchestra's repertoire. For more information, see the college's website, www.misericordia.edu or call 674-6719 for ticket information.

"Under the Stars" runs July 8-21 and features four different performances: Jazz in July on July 8, "Twelfth Night," performed by the National Players July 11-13 and Zydecoal band in concert July 14. Ticket prices for these performances are as follows: amphitheater seating: $14 and lawn seating: $8. Tickets for the Janis Ian concert on July 21 are $20 for amphitheater seating and $15 for lawn seating. Tickets for all four shows can be purchased at the package price of $55 for amphitheater seating. All events are held at the First Union Amphitheater.
