Victor Liva will be Guest Conductor at July 27 PAI performances

Victor Liva, whose family name is synonymous with music in the Wyoming Valley, will conduct PAI's chamber and symphony orchestras this Saturday, July 27, at 8 p.m. in the Great Hall, 228 Wyoming Avenue, Kingston.

The Performing Arts Institute (PAI) of Wyoming Seminary will feature music by Brahams and Mozart under the baton of Victor Liva Saturday, July 27, at 8 p.m. at the Great Hall, 228 Wyoming Ave., Kingston.

A native of the area whose family name has long been associated with music in the Wyoming Valley, Victor Liva often returns to PAI to conduct its symphony and chamber orchestras. His late father, Ferdinand Liva, trained many musicians in the area, including his own children, and founded what later became the Northeastern Pennsylvania Philharmonic. The family's five children, including Victor, became musicians in their own right and later moved on to great careers.

Currently the Director of Orchestral Studies at Northern Arizona University, Liva also directs the orchestra and will soon complete his doctorate in orchestral conducting at the University of South Carolina, Columbia.

Beginning at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Liva will lead the Chamber Orchestra in works by Mozart (Divertimento K138) and Arensky (Variations on a Theme by Tchaikovsky). He will also conduct the Symphony Orchestra, featuring Symphony No. 1 by Brahams and Suite by Arthur Foote.

Rounding out Saturday evening's concerts will be performances by the Masterworks Chorale and the Institute Chorus, both under the baton of Alan Baker, director of the Young Artists program at PAI. Currently on the faculty of Bloomsburg University, Dr. Baker also conducts the Choral Society of Northeastern Pennsylvania and the Wyoming Valley Children's Chorus. He is the music director of the Lyric Consort, a professional vocal ensemble that performs regionally, and has recorded for CDs as well as for radio and television.

Saturday evening's concerts will be preceded on Friday, July 26, by performances of the Wind Ensemble, Jazz Ensemble, and Young Artists at 8 p.m. at the Buckingham Performing Arts Center, North Sprague Ave. in Kingston. James Wortley, conductor of the Wind Ensemble, is the Head of Brass, Percussion and Music Technology at Eton

College (England), where he founded the jazz and technology programs. In demand as an adjudicator, he coaches the brass section of the National Schools' Symphony Orchestra of Great Britain and is a trombone player with the BBC Orchestra in Scotland.

Perry Orfanella, who will conduct the Jazz Ensemble, is a freelance bass player and studio musician in Florida. A graduate of the Hartt School of Music, he brings with him 14 years of experience from the Encore Music Camp of Pennsylvania.

The weekend will culminate in a full-scale Dance Company production on Sunday, July 28, at 3 p.m. in the Buckingham Performing Arts Center. The program features all students, faculty, and guest artists as well as live accompaniment by PAI musicians. All performances are open to the public and free of charge.

Ample parking for all concerts is available adjacent to the Buckingham Performing Arts Center. For further information, call Nancy Sanderson at 270-2186 or visit the PAI website at www.wyomingseminary.org/pai
