Mountaineers reload after big graduation losses

By TIMOTHY J. RAUB ial to The Dallas Post

DALLAS — Life after one of Dallas's most talented senior classes will be a tough one to day the least.

The Mountaineers will have one of its smallest teams in recent years, both in numbers and strength. They face a schedule that includes Wyoming Valley West. Pittston Area and Berwick, one of Hanover Area's top teams in 15 years, and will have to do it all without the likes of Chuck Suppon and John Simonitis.

"We're not real big, and we're not real fast, and it's a physical league with verv speed," said head coach Ted Jackson. "We're going to have to be scrappy, play harder than the other guy to win and not make costly mistakes.

"We lost a senior class that is going to be tough to replace.

QUARTERBACK: Despite the loss of three-year starter Suppon, Ryan Gryskevicz has been in the fold for the last two years. Jackson said Gryskevicz could have started on six or seven teams over that time, but will have his chance to shine this year in an offense with a load of potential. He responded in the Mounts' first game Saturday, throwing three touchdown passes and no interceptions.

RUNNING BACKS: The Mountaineers running backs have seen time, but none have started — until this season. Senior Ryan Bolton will handle most of the carries at tailback, and Chris Hayes, one of Jackson's top athletes, will split time between tailback and fullback. Senior Rich Frantz will also see time at fullback

OFFENSIVE LINE: Jackson will rely heavily on an offensive line that returns four starters who saw significant time last season. Junior Doug Zaruta, who started five games at center, will be joined on the line by juniors Marty Murray, John McGeehan and senior Steve Salavantis. Seniors Bill Siglin and Mike Burns and sophomore Matt

"Depth is a very scary part for us."

"We had three sophomores that played on the line last year," said Jackson. "Murray, McGeehan and Zaruta were kind of thrown to the dogs last year and we won eight games, so they're going to be nothing but stronger and better prepared for the battle."

RECEIVERS: Jon Barbose and Kevin Arnaud both return and along with sophomore Jeff Bernosky, give Gryskevicz a trio of tall, surehanded targets with experience. But Jackson said tight end is a real concern. Brandon Short and Rich Adams have been battling for the starting job, and both will likely get some playing time.

DEFENSIVE LINE: The most depleted area for the Mounts, only Salavantis returns, and will start at defensive end. But Jackson is not overly worried. He has inserted Murray and McGeehan into the middle of the line, but the other defensive end position is up for grabs.

LINEBACKERS: Like the de-2 fensive line, Jackson will have 3 to rely on some new faces and 4 transitioned players to step it up early. Hayes will slide into 5 the inside linebacker position after two years outside, and 8 will be joined by Frantz to so-9 lidify a middle depleted by 11 graduation. Arnaud will start at outside linebacker.

15. SECONDARY: Barbose, the 17 defensive captain and Gryskevicz have started the last two 21 22 seasons, and will provide experience to a secondary with 12 new faces. Bolton and 24 Bernosky have emerged as 25 Jackson's replacements in the 26 secondary 30

OUTLOOK: Jackson will be relying heavily on the play of a number of starters with relatively little experience. Many of those players have the potential, but must show they have what it takes to start.

We feel for this team to be 54 successful, we're going to 55 have to play harder than the 56 other team, and not make 62 mistakes, because we're not 65 as talented as we have been,' 66 said Jackson. "We have to fill two or three positions with 68 kids that haven't been there 71 yet, and hopefully they'll step 75 up like most Dallas kids have 77 done in the past. 78

Depth is a very scary part for us. Our numbers hurt us. Right now we have 36 kids healthy, and that's nice if you're a AA team, but playing Hazelton Area, Valley West, Pittston Area and Berwick, if three or four guys get hurt, depth is a severe, severe concern of ours."
