2002 Lake-Lehman Black Knights

Lake-Lehman has many new parts to fit together

Bob Langan will have his work cut out for him.

With the exception of a nearly intact returning offensive line, tight end and flanker, the Black Knights will be as green as it gets on offense.

"If we're looking for one strength, we're returning everybody on our line except one player," Langan said. "I automatically told the guys at camp in the beginning of the season, our success has to hang on that senior offensive line."

"I have my tight end back, my flanker back and four of my five offensive line, so that should be the strength of this offensive team. I have some skilled players in the backfield, but nobody that has any true game experience, so the offensive line will have to shoulder the load."

But if there is one highlight outside of the offensive line for the Black Knights this season, it is the return of the Wyoming Valley Conference.

Langan said the new schedule should give Lake-Lehman playing a level playing field, facing many other teams with the same problems.

"We're back in a situation where the teams we're playing have the same kind of problems we have with numbers, so it kind of becomes a more balanced situation," said Langan. "The teams we're playing have the same kind of depth problems we have and that kind of balances the playing field a bit."

QUARTERBACK: With the loss of Zack Ragukas to graduation, Langan has taken his time picking a starter. Senior Brian Cornia got the start in Saturday's 27-6 loss to Nanticoke. He passed for 155 yards
