Doris Kearns Goodwin to be Celebrity Luncheon speaker

Presidential historian and biographer, Doris Kearns Goodwin will kick off the Celebrity Luncheons 2002-2003 series on Thursday, September 26. Kearns Goodwin is a commentator for NBC and a regular panelist on public television's The NewsHour with Jim Lehrer.

Growing up in the 1950s in the Long Island suburb of Rockville Center, Kearns Goodwin defined herself by her family, her street, her town, her Roman Catholic religion and her team — the Brooklyn Dodgers.

As did the Dodgers, Kearns Goodwin eventually left her hometown. In Waterville, Maine, she earned her B.A. from Colby College, graduating magna cum laude, and continued on to earn a Ph.D. in government at Harvard University. Before returning to Harvard as a professor of government for 10 years, teaching a course on the American presidency, she became an assistant to President Lyndon B. Johnson during his last year in the White House.

Kearns Goodwin has authored four highly-praised books: Lyndon Johnson and The American Dream (1976); The Fitzgeralds and The Kennedys (1987) which was made into a six-hour television mini-series on ABC in 1990; No Ordinary Time: Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt: The American Home Front During World War II (1993) which received the 1995 Pulitzer Prize for history; and Wait Till Next Year: A Memoir (1997). All four books spent a number of weeks on the New York Times best-seller list.

Other speakers for the 2002-2003 series include actress/comedian, Amy Wilson, on Thursday, October 24; the greatest con artist-gone straight, Frank Abagnale, on Friday, April 25 and The Antiques Roadshow on Thursday, May 15.

Luncheons are held at Genetti's Hotel and Convention Center in Wilkes-Barre with guest celebrities speaking from 11 am - noon, followed by a question and answer period. Lunch is served at 12:30 p.m. Season tickets are $165. For tickets or sponsorship opportunities, please call 570-696-2967 or visit www.celebrityluncheons.com. Gift certificates are available.
