Northeastern Pennsylvania appearance as part of the Inner Harmony Healthy Community Empowerment Series. Chopra will speak in Mellow Theater of Lackawanna College in Scranton on the evening of Saturday, Sept. 21 at 7 p.m.

The event will benefit the Inner Harmony Foundation in its mission to support, develop, and provide educational and wellness services to the public while emphasizing health promotion and disease prevention.

Formerly the Chief of Staff at Boston Regional Medical Center, Chopra built a successful endocrinology practice in Boston in the 1980s. In his medical practice, Chopra recognized that there was potential in Western medicine for the es-establishment of a new paradigm inclusive of the principle that perfect health is more than just the absence of disease. He envisioned a medical system based upon the premise that health is a state of balance and integration of body, mind and spirit.

Chopra founded The Chopra Center for Well Being more than a decade ago to expand his healing approach using the integration of the best of Western medicine with natural healing traditions. The Chopra Center now calls the La Costa Resort and Spa (Carlsbad, CA) home.

Known worldwide for his published works, Chopra is the author of more than 27 books and more than 100 audio, video and CD-ROM titles, including five critically acclaimed programs on public television.
