Meadows honors teens

The Meadows Nursing Center, Dallas, recently thanked teen volunteers for donating over 1,000 hours of service to the 130 residents at the center during the past year. Gift certificates were awarded at the pizza party held in their honor. Teens helped at the center by visiting with residents, assisting with therapeutic activities and socials.

Students who need community service hours for school or church projects are welcome to join the fall teen volunteer program. To apply, contact the volunteer department at 675-8600, Extensions 138 or 195. Hours are available evenings and weekends and training is provided.

Dr. William Cutter honored for contributions at MIT

Dr. William C. Cutter, a former Dallas resident, was awarded a 2002 SHASS Infinite Mile Award for his outstanding contributions to teaching and service to the School of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences of MIT (Massachusetts Institute of Technology), Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Dr. Cutter is a Lecturer in Music and Director of Choral Activities at MIT, where he is conductor of the MIT Concert Choir and Chamber Choir. He is also a member of the Choral Faculty at the Boston Conservatory, where he conducts the Chorale and the Women's Chorale, and he has also held academic posts at the Boston University School for the Arts, the University of Lowell, and the Walnut Hill School for the Arts. Conductor of the Boston University Young Artist Chorus of the Tanglewood Institute for five summers, Dr. Cutter was also music director and conductor of the Opera Laboratory Theater Company as well as founder and music director of the vocal ensemble CANTO, which specializes in contemporary choral music.

He has also prepared choruses for John Williams and Keith Lockhart and the Boston Pops. For seven seasons, he was the music director and conductor of the Brookline Chorus, Brookline, Massachusetts.

Dr. Cutter has an undergraduate degree in Voice from Mansfield University, where he was named the Most Outstanding Alumni in 1998. He received his Masters and Doctorate Degrees in Composition from Boston University and writes choral music for several publishers. His music is widely performed by school and professional ensembles. As a professional tenor, he has sung with vocal ensembles in Boston, has been featured on the MIT faculty recital series, the Cantata Singers, and has taught voice at the New England Conservatory Preparatory School.

When Mary Jo delivered, so did we.

At Geisinger Health Plan, we do more than give our members access to excellent health care at an affordable cost, a growing network of health care providers and a variety of wellness and care coordination programs. We also remind our new mothers about scheduling well-baby visits and making sure their little ones get the immunizations they need. We do all this because our health plan is run by practicing physicians who believe patient care comes first. And isn't that the kind of health plan you wish you had?
