En Plein Air Society slates 11th annual members' exhibit

Ann Searfoss and Susan Nardone at Hillside Farms.

Many local artists will exhibit their artwork at a fundraising event to benefit the Forty Fort Meeting House Preservation Fund at the historic Forty Fort Cemetery on October 6. The 11th Annual Members' Exhibit of the Pennsylvania En Plein Air Society will feature drawings and paintings produced on location around Northeastern Pennsylvania and its environs. They are on display at the historic

Forty Fort structure at the corner of Wyoming Avenue and River Street in Forty Fort will include numerous landscapes of local interest. Included will be works of art from Lycoming, Lackawanna, Columbia, Sullivan, Carbon, Bradford, and Luzerne counties. "We hope many visitors will come to our beautiful structure, view the artwork, and learn more about local history," says Lillian Smith of the Forty Fort Meeting House. Local artists exhibiting their artworks include: Sue Hand, Dallas; Lowry Puckey, Dallas; Ann Searfoss, Carverton; Susan Lowcavage, Hunlock Creek; Charles "Woody" Woodworth, Hunlock Creek; Dave Hoffman, Harvey's Lake; and Marcie Jones, Hunlock Creek.

The public is invited to attend the one-day only exhibit and meet the artists on Sunday, October 6 from 12-3 p.m. At 1 p.m. the artists will present "Stories From the Air" featuring highlights of their recent plein air painting experiences. Many of the artists will also have studio works and additional subject matter for sale. A portion of all proceeds will be used for the upkeep and restoration of the historical Forty Fort Meeting House. For more information call Sue Hand at 675-5094.

The Lehman Haunted Barn will open for the season this Friday, and will be open Fridays-Sundays until Oct. 27, plus Oct. 29-31. This year's fright includes a new pre-show short film, "Pathetic Too," which will be shown to visitors before they enter the barn. For information, call the Spook Line at 674-5420, or check out www.hauntedbarn.org.
