She's Queen of Dallas

Rachel Kukosky was named Dallas High School Homecoming Queen for 2002. She was escorted by Mike English at the Dallas/Wyoming Valley West football game played Monday. The game was postponed from Saturday due to wet field conditions, but the crowning took place at Saturday night's Homecoming Dance.

Josh Baranowski is one of three in PA to win grant

Educational Research Center of America, Inc. is proud to announce that Joshua Baranowski, a 2002 graduate of Lake-Lehman High School, is one of 25 recipients of its 2001-2002 Community Contribution Scholarships.

ERCA scholarships are awarded to students who have made a difference in their communities.

The winners created and carried out volunteer projects that helped to bring their community together, making their school or neighborhood safer, more welcoming places.

Joshua received a grant of $1,000 to use for college-related expenses. Of the thousands of students, nation-wide, who applied, less than 1 percent were selected. The state of Pennsylvania had three winners.

Joshua "adopted" three grandmothers in a local apartment complex. He visited each of them once a week after school, during his visits, he would perform small chores around the apartment, read aloud, or just visit.

In addition, Joshua also represented Lake-Lehman High School on the United Way Youth Allocations Committee, where he was one of 30 high school students who helped to decide which charities should receive funding from the United Way. Joshua will attend the University of Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh this fall.
