Chicory House Contra Dance flows with 'Tributary'

The band consists of Kathy Shimberg on piano, Curt Osgood on hammered dulcimer, and Dick Bolt, fiddle.

The Chicory House and the Folklore Society will present a New England Contra Dance on Saturday, Nov. 9, at 8 p.m. The dance is held at St. Therese's Church, Pioneer Ave. at Davis street in Shavertown. No partner or previous experience is necessary, and all dances are taught and called.

Live music is an intrinsic necessity for contra dancing. Tributary is a trio of musicians who share an understanding and love of the older forms of traditional music. The band consists of Kathy Shimberg on piano, Curt Osgood on hammered dulcimer, and Dick Bolt, fiddle. They will team up with outstanding caller Melanie Axel-Lute. Although they also play for other occasions besides dances, Tributary is known especially for providing solid and lively dance music with all the old-style flavor — the jigs, reels, hornpipes, waltzes, quadrilles, schottisches, polkas, handed down over the years for contra-, square-, and round-dancing.

Caller Melanie Axel-Lute is familiar with several types of traditional dance forms. As caller she teaches the dance, walks through it with the dancers, and then calls out the figures just before the dancers have to do them, while the music is playing. Lightweight clothing is recommended.

The Chicory House is an all-volunteer nonprofit coffeehouse, sponsoring folk music and dance in the Wyoming Valley. Admission to the dance is $6 for adults and $15 for families. Dancers are invited to bring a snack to share at intermission.

For information, call 333-4007.
