An invitation to celebrate Children's Book Week home and read it with your family. After you finish reading it, select one of the food items that was cooked, baked or eaten in the story and prepare it with a family member.

Bring your book and the food you've prepared to the Children's Room at the library on Wednesday, November 20, for a COOK-A-BOOK Party from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. You will have a chance to tell the group about the book you read and the food that you prepared. Every child who completes a book and a food item will receive a paper-book, a bookmark, a certificate and a chance to win a grand prize.

You can register for the party when you select your book. Call the library at 675-1182, if you have any questions.

Order your citrus fruit today! If you haven't yet ordered your fruit and need an order form, stop by the library and pick one up. The usual selection of fruit — oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, or a combination — is offered, plus the delicious cheesecakes presented at last year's sale. The deadline for ordering is November 20, and the pickup dates are December 13 and 14. This is a popular fundraiser presented by the Friends of the Library to benefit the library each year. Call the library for further details.

Meadowcrest Crime Watch treats at Halloween

Meadowcrest Neighborhood Crime Watch, under the direction of Charles Balogh, crime prevention awareness specialist with the Luzerne County District Attorney's Office, recently held "Halloween Party and Parade Night." The festivities started with a parade led by Kingston Township Police. A special appearance was made by McGruff the Crime Dog. After the parade the children were treated to food, refreshments and prizes at the development's Family Enrichment Center. The evening came to a close with the distribution of bags full of treats. "The party was a great success thanks to our many contributors," said Marion Hazeltine, resident council coordinator. Contributions from J C Penney, Pepsi-Cola Bottling, Middlesworth, Trucksville Pharmacy, Humphrey's, Price Chopper, Grotto Pizza, McDonald's and several other area merchants made this Halloween party a happy event for the children.

For more information or future activities please call Veronica Sokolowski at 696-0179 or Marion Hazeltine at 696-4318.
