Sounds and sights of Thanksgiving at Dallas Elementary

Parents, grandparents and siblings filled the gymnasium for the second grade's annual Thanksgiving Program at Dallas Elementary School. Students attired in black and white, wearing Pilgrim hats, bonnets and cravats, entertained the crowd with holiday songs, poems, and a play entitled "Thanksgiving at the Tappletons." In addition to the holiday theme, there were performances by tap dancers, karate demonstrators and piano and voice soloists. The students and their guests were treated to a reception afterwards provided by the Dallas Elementary PTO.

Katie Metcalf impressed the audience with her solo performance of "God Bless the USA."

Katherine Marianacci performed two solo piano pieces, "The Rhythm Machine" and "The Entertainer."

Although her brother, Matthew, fell asleep, Nicole Giampietro's grandfather, John Giampietro, enjoyed the program.
