The Wyoming Seminary Lower School in Forty Fort invites parents of children ages 3 through 5 who are interested in attending Wyoming Seminary to bring their children to an admission screening on Saturday, January 25 between 9 a.m. and 12 noon. Children who would be in pre-kindergarten (age 4), kindergarten or first grade in fall, 2003 are encouraged to apply.

The screening includes an admission test, a tour of the Lower School campus and information about the school. Refreshments will be provided. Parents are asked to call Alice Droppers, associate director of admission, at 718-6610 for an appointment.

Wyoming Seminary Lower School includes grades pre-kindergarten (age 3) to eighth grade, and offers small classes, individualized attention, outstanding modern facilities and a wide range of cultural and extracurricular activities. Financial aid is available.

For more information or to register for the admission screening, call 718-6610.

Touey wins community award

At a recent assembly, Mr. Michael Shevock, Dallas Middle School guidance counselor, announced the winner of the Prudential Spirit of Community Award. The award is an annual competition open to all students across the country. The award recognizes students for their dedication and commitment to volunteerism. Amanda Touey, an eighth grade student, was honored for her many hours in rescuing stray kittens in her neighborhood. She raised the animals until they were old enough to be adopted, and then found families to take in the kittens. Amanda is the daughter of Michael and Gail Touey of Dallas.
