I Taught Dave All He Knows About Golf.
When Dave told me what he learned about colorectal cancer, I listened. His doctor told him colorectal cancer (cancer of the colon or rectum) is the second-leading cancer killer. And that the risk increases as you age, especially after 50. Screening tests are often the only way to detect the disease in the early stages--when there may not be any symptoms and when treatment can be most effective. Everyone 50 and older should get colorectal cancer screening tests. So now I do. Now Dave enjoys a good golf game and I enjoy good health.
He told me how I could avoid colorectal cancer.
Screening tests can save lives. Talk to your doctor about your screening options.
