

Trucksville UM Sunday School supports Habitat

On Sunday, February 2, from 9.45 to 10.45 a.m., the Sunday School classes of Trucksville United Methodist Church will host an indoor mission festival to benefit the local Habitat For Humanity affiliate. Children from nursery age to senior high will spend two weeks learning about the mission of HFH and preparing construction-related crafts.

The public is invited to attend this special one day event when the children will share HFH information, offer crafts and a bake sale, sponsor guessing games and feature their very own "construction site." There will be no admission charge but donations to Wyoming Valley Habitat For Humanity will be gladly accepted. For further information, please call the church office at 696-3897.

The ladder was purchased through church school "Birthday Bank" funds. ## 'Souper' Bowl of Caring Sunday

Center Moreland United Methodist Church youth will hold the "Souper" Bowl of Caring mission project on Sunday, January 26 during worship with a "soup pot" offering for hunger. The collection will go to the soup kitchen in Wilkes-Barre. A food collection of non-perishable items is also underway, with items going to the Wyoming County and Back Mountain food pantries.

Each year the youth also do a Service Blitz. This year's blitz will be a youth/children/infant clothing drive. Clean and in good condition clothing is being accepted; no undergarments, please. Children's sweaters, coats and jackets are especially needed. Collected clothing will be given to local wardrobe charities and to the Red Bird Mission in Thousandsticks, Kentucky.

The Center Moreland United Methodist will be open from 8 a.m.-1 p.m. on Saturdays, Jan. 25, Feb. 1 and Feb. 8 to drop off clothing items. For info, call Sue Vozzak (333-4595) or Sheryl Phillips (333-4226).
