

College Fair May 5 at arena

High school students and their parents from throughout Northeast Pennsylvania are invited to attend The Pennsylvania Association for College Admission Counseling (PACAC) Northeast Regional College Fair on Monday, May 5 at the First Union Arena at Casey Plaza. Designed as a public service to benefit high school sophomores, juniors and their parents, this event is free and open to the public.

Nearly 200 colleges, universities, two-year colleges and arts institutes from throughout the eastern United States and parts of the Midwest are expected to attend. The fair will be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., and from 6:30-8:30 p.m. College admissions counselors will be available during the day and in the evening, and the evening session will feature programs on financial aid, choosing a college, what to know about Ivy League and other highly selective institutions, how to use a high school college guidance office, and how colleges recruit athletes.

Parents and their children are encouraged to attend the evening session together.

This is the first year the fair, sponsored and organized by PACAC, has been held at the Arena. In the past, Wyoming Seminary held a college fair in the spring at the Upper School in Kingston.

Students who want to request information from many colleges bring pre-printed labels with their names and addresses, to reduce time spent in filling out forms.

Learning center opens

Keystone Points of Knowledge has opened in the Twin Stacks Center, in Dallas. Keystone Points of Knowledge is a network of learning centers dedicated to working with a variety of organizations, schools and community leaders to provide convenient and affordable remedial and enrichment educational tutoring services. The program serves children in grades K-12. After each student is tested, he or she receives individualized instruction. All Keystone Points of Knowledge Directors of Learning are certified teachers, and the centers are certified by Classroom Plus, Pennsylvania's grant program for third through sixth graders.

Local Keystone Points of Knowledge Learning Centers are owned and operated by Gerry Pernot. He is a native of Luzerne County, a graduate of Wilkes University and he earned his MBA from the University of Scranton. He lives in Duryea with his wife Patty and their three children.

Summer program registration is now available. For information, call 1-800-742-9550.
