NUNSENSE returns to the Music Box

Some habits are hard to break! And the very good and very funny Little Sisters of Hoboken prove this to be true as they visit the Music Box Dinner Playhouse once again to raise its roof with two hours of non-stop laughter.

Dan Goggin's ingenious "Sister Act" has been playing before New York audiences for years while its National tours and summer stock productions have entertained millions. Locally, the Music Box has delighted packed houses in previous productions and another madcap edition will be presented June 27-29, at the Playhouse, 196 Hughes St., Swoyersville.

Five of the most talented nuns led by Sister Mary Regina (formerly Debbie Zehner prior to entering the convent) will prove that an evening of song and dance and other Nunsense with the Little Sisters is more fun than a hundred games of BINGO. Assisting the Mother Superior is Sister Mary Amnesia (formerly Regina Rockensies of Dallas).
