The first in the 2003-04 series of benefit concerts for the Northeastern Pennsylvania chapter of Habitat for Humanity will feature well-known guitarist David Paul in a special performance Saturday, November 15 at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church, South Franklin and Northampton streets, Wilkes-Barre.

David Paul will perform a benefit concert for Habitat for Humanity on Saturday, Nov. 15 at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church in Wilkes-Barre.

Tickets, at $10 for adults and $5 for students and senior citizens will be sold at the door.

Reviewer Palmer Moore wrote that, "David Paul's latest CD 'Picking Our Way' is a wonderful compilation of original songs that David wrote with tunes that actually do have melodies — ones that you will find yourself humming again and again. No wonder the New York scene is intrigued with his sound!"

Paul's CD is ranked fourth in sales at the largest Internet finger-style guitar music distributor, funkyjunk.com.

Joining Paul will be guitarist Chris Bovard, who has started for celebrities such as Tina Turner and Brian Adams, and Freeman White on keyboard, who recently concluded a tour of Europe with the group Strawberry Jam.

"This concert is a wonderful way for our community to come together to support families in need right here in Northeastern Pennsylvania," said Nancy Sanderson, director of the Performing Arts Institute of Wyoming Seminary. For further information, contact the PAI of Wyoming Seminary office at 270-2186.
