Misericordia Players to perform Shakespeare

The Misericordia Players will perform William Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" in the College's Walsh Auditorium Thursday, November 20 through Saturday, November 22. Shows start at 8 p.m. and tickets are available at the door. Tickets are $5 for general admission and $3 for students and senior citizens.

One of Shakespeare's most popular romantic comedies, "Much Ado About Nothing" takes us through a story of love and deceit. The story begins with the pure and untainted love of Claudio (John Hall) and Hero (Angela Kelly) and the battle of wits between Beatrice (Mary Smeed) and Benedick (Luis Martinez), but the plot shifts as plans are devised to change these relationships. Hidden behind the cover of a mask, confusion spreads and the characters are forced to walk the fine line between love and hate. As the audience is asking if the story will end with a double wedding or a double funeral, the tension is broken by the comedy of Dogberry (Rebecca Stylinski) and Verges (Paul Clark), members of the guard. Can this unlikely group of watchmen help to set the confusion straight, or will the lovers fall victim to the deceit of false appearances?

The cast is under the direction of Don Hopkins with Meghan Dwyer, stage manager, Audrey Ide, costume designer, Christina Stango, music director, Heather Jones, props coordinator, and Angela Kelly, public relations.
