Dallas High School troupe presents Vonnegut plays

The Dallas High School Theater Department recently presented a series of three one-act plays by Kurt Vonnegut. Substitute teacher, Ronald Kross, who taught in New York for 34 years and acted on the stage there, directed the plays. Christine Zavaskas gestures at Dustin Bednarz and Heather in a scene from "Who Am I This Time?" "In 'The Handicapper General' people who are better or smarter are brought down to the same level by handicapping," explained senior Michael Swartwood, pictured here with Megan Vodzak.

Engineering open house

Penn State Wilkes-Barre will host an Engineering Open House on Wednesday, November 26 at the Bell Atlantic Center for Technology on the campus in Lehman. Students will have the opportunity to learn about various disciplines of engineering including aerospace, architectural, civil, environmental, electrical, mechanical, telecommunication, surveying, and more. Highlighting the program is an afternoon on-site visit to a local engineering firm where students can experience the day-to-day activities of engineers working in the field. Students can choose to visit one of the following companies: Borton-Lawson Engineering, Commonwealth Telephone, Quad Three, The Architecture & Engineering Group, or Martin & Rogers. Lunch will be provided. For more information or to make your reservation for the open house, e-mail wbadmissions@psu.edu or visit www.wb.psu.edu to register online.
