erson Center. Schutz was pleasantly surprised in his final bout when opponent Dan Vogel of Western Wayne chose bottom to start the second period with the score 0-0.

"Most people look for my arm bar," said Schutz. "So when he took bottom, I just hit it and it worked."

Schutz earned the fall in 2:26.

"To me it was pretty important," said Schutz. "It was a tough tournament with stiff competition. It's definitely a confidence booster."

Dragon's victory in the final was ugly, but not because the Lehman junior didn't wrestle well.

Dragon injured his right thumb and has been taking Aleve, a painkiller that thins his blood. The result was frequent nose bleeds that stopped the final bout five times and consumed about four of five allotted blood timeout minutes.

"Once it starts it just doesn't stop," Dragon said of the blood. "I didn't want to lose that match on something stupid."

Dragon scored a double-leg takedown in the first, then got three back points before giving up a reversal. He escaped and led 6-2. Dragon escaped to start the third and got a takedown and two more back points for an 11-2 major decision.

"It was real hard to get any momentum going when he kept getting a break to catch his breath," Dragon said.

Dallas wrestler John Hettes took third place at 119 and Lake-Lehman's Andy Josuweit was third at 140.

Spring-Ford won the team title.

DYB Holiday Tournament action

The Dallas boys retained the 6th grade championship of the Dallas Youth Basketball Holiday Tournament by edging Tunkhannock 40-31 last weekend. In these photos, the two teams met in a first-round game.

Clockwise from top left: Tunkhannock's Will Mooers drove around Spencer Youngman; Stephen Zapoticky looked up at the basket while guarded by Ryan McCarthy and another Tunkhannock player; Marc Noyalis, left, and Kyle Custer scrambled for a loose ball.
