Registration for the Summer 2004 Camp Programs at Camp Louise is now open for Girl Scouts of Penn's Woods Council and non-scouts. Financial assistance in the form of Campership Grants are available to registered Girl Scouts who need help covering the costs of a camp session and/or related expenses.

With more than 50 programs to choose from, everything from high adventure, science, sports and music to outdoor cooking and nature studies can be experienced at Camp Louise.

There are three-day mini-camps for first time campers and those that don't want to spend a whole week. In addition to resident camp, Camp Louise hosts a Me & My Buddy

Fishing for Fun at the library

Matthew Snyder and his sister, Faith (held by mother Jill Snyder), are trying to snag fishes that will give them instructions on what books to read for the summer reading program, "Nature Fun and Safety." To the left and right are Janet Bauman and Marilyn Rudolph, of the children's department at the Back Mountain Memorial Library. Children are urged to come to the library starting on June 1 to fill out a game card, and then to begin reading the eight books required to receive prizes and certificates at the end of the summer program. There will be special events for participants on June 15, June 25, July 14, and July 30. They will feature talks on birds, zoo animals, and other facets of nature, given by experts in their fields, including two state park rangers.
