PRE-DISTRICT GOLF

Dallas qualifies 5 for districts

Many other Back Mountain and Tunkhannock golfers will play in Oct. 6 tournament.

Times Leader Staff

Sept. 27 — Bishop Hoban's Matt Mileski edged Dallas star Joe Bevevino by one stroke to win his second consecutive Wyoming Valley Conference Pre-District Tournament at Fox Hill Country Club.

Later Monday, at Irem Temple Country Club, Hoban, led by Mileski's 2-over-par 38, defeated Dallas 163-169 to win the WVC's Central Division title.

Wyoming Area sophomore Jessica Rydzewski was the girls pre-district medalist on Monday, firing a 91, edging Dallas' Brittany Prater and Wyoming Seminary's Emily Bold, the defending District 2 champion, by one stroke.

In the pre-districts at Fox Hill, Mileski double-bogeyed the par-4 18th to finish at 4-over 75, but Bevevino, a freshman who burst on the scene by winning the WVC Tom Tryba Preseason Tournament last month, was 4-over on the final three holes. He finished at 5-over 76.

Bevevino had the day's low score on the front nine (36).

Hoban qualified the most boys into districts. Argents joining Mileski include Brandon Wills, who finished ninth (81) and also recorded the lone ace of the day; Jeff Clemente (82) and Mike Clemente (83).

Dallas qualified five boys for districts, including Bevevino, Ryan Franconi, who was fifth (78), John Stevens (82), Scott Grundowski (84) and Adam King (86). Four Tunkhannock players advanced: Mike O'Mara (82), Matt Franko (83), Victor Kalvatis (84) and Spencer Lungler (85).

Two local players for Bishop O'Reilly made it to districts, Zach Aciekewicz (83) and Tim Crossin (86).

No Lake-Lehman golfers qualified for districts.
