high school." Arcangeli credits his teammates with smoothing the transition. "It's going pretty well," he said. "I've got a good group of linemen to protect and Rick Schofield and Chris Boyle are great receivers. They make my job easier."

While Arcangeli, who dropped nearly 40 pounds in preparation for his new role still plays a few downs per game at defensive end, he misses the days when he played linebacker. "It's tough to be on the receiving end of all the hits," said Arcangeli. "It's fun to dish them out sometimes."

With the Knights off to a 2-3 start, Arcangeli and his teammates are excited about the team's early-season success. "Coach Myers has instilled a very positive attitude," said Arcangeli. "We have two good wins and are getting better every week. We believe in ourselves and think we can win."

If Myers has his way, that attitude will continue throughout the season. "The kids are very upbeat," he said. "We've got talent and the kids see that they can win. If we continue to strive to improve, the wins and losses will take care of themselves."
