Cast members of the 2003 Madrigal Dinner prepare to perform for a sold-out show.

35th annual Madrigal Dinner at Misericordia

College Misericordia's Banks Student Life Center will be transformed into the splendor and grandeur of a 16th Century English manor dining hall during the college's 35th Annual Madrigal Dinner. This year's dinner will celebrate Guy Fawkes' Day with traditional games and songs as performers recreate that fateful day in November 1605 when England's most notorious traitor, Guy Fawkes, attempted to blow up Parliament and kill King James... or did he? The dinner will take place on Friday and Saturday, December 3 and 4. The wassail bowl will be served at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner and entertainment at 7 p.m. Cost of admission is $35 for adults and $18 for children under 12. Reservations are required and can be made by calling 674-6719.

During the Madrigal Dinner, College Misericordia students, faculty, staff, and friends recreate an Elizabethan Christmas feast that rivals any offered throughout the East Coast. Complete with music, dancing, colorful costumes and even a jester or two, guests can enjoy an authentic, four-course meal with lively entertainment, a perfect way to start the Christmas season!
