

College camp for occupational therapy

The Occupational Therapy Department at College Misericordia is sponsoring the third annual Career Exploration Camp for Occupational Therapy, July 10-13. The camp will introduce the profession to high school students interested in a career in occupational therapy. It is a residential camp with a nominal fee. Campers will stay at the residence halls at College Misericordia, interact with faculty and students of the occupational therapy program, and visit several community sites where occupational therapy is practiced.

Anyone interested in attending the camp can request an application from Stephanie Winsock at 674-6391, swinsock@misericordia.edu, or follow the links to the Occupational Therapy department homepage from the College Misericordia webpage, www.misericordia.edu. Registration is limited and will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. College Misericordia also offers other summer camps and courses, including kids' camps, sports camps, graduate and undergraduate courses. For more information, visit online at misericordia.edu/summer.

Seminary students win music honors

Five Wyoming Seminary Upper School students from the Back Mountain were selected to perform in district, regional and state band and orchestra festivals. The festivals are organized by the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association and honor students for excellence in voice and instrumental music.

Sophomore Megan Messersmith, Dallas, was named to the Luzerne County Honors Band,

District Band and Regional Band. Also named to the District Band were sophomore Chelsea Halsor, Dallas, and junior Andrew Rogers, Trucksville. Junior Scott Henry, Shavertown, and Rogers were named to District Jazz Band. Senior Caitlin Delehanty, Shavertown, was named to District Orchestra and Regional Orchestra. Rogers also was named to Regional Band, Regional Orchestra and All-State Concert Band.

Poster winner

Demetra Szatkowski, a sixth grade student at the Dallas Middle School, took first place in the Wyoming Valley Alcohol and Drug poster contest. Demetra will be recognized for her achievement at a Red Barons game on June 8.
