'Evita' coming to the Music Box

Based on the real life and death of Argentine first lady Eva Duarte de Peron, "Evita" tells the story of a girl born into extreme poverty who becomes the wealthiest, most despised and most beloved figure in Argentine politics. Nancy Brown, Music Box veteran and original star of the smash 1995 production, takes on the challenging lead role, including her powerful performance of Evita's most famous song, "Don't Cry For Me Argentina." All performances are offered as a dinner show. With this production, The Players introduce a new caterer, A Touch of Class of Dallas. A cash bar is available at every performance. Tickets may be ordered now for at a special summer price; buy one ticket at the regular price of $32 and receive the second for half-price. "Evita" will be presented on July 22, 23, 24, 28, 19, 30, 31, and August 4, 5, 6, 7 at the Music Box Dinner Playhouse in Swoyersville. Thursday, Friday and Saturdays: Doors open at 6 p.m., the buffet starts at 6:30 and curtain is at 8. Sundays, doors open at 1 p.m., buffet is at 1:30 and curtain is at 3. For reservations or more information, call 283-2195 or (800) 698-PLAY, or visit www.musicbox.org.
