

Elizabeth Heintz enjoys a laugh at the car wash to raise money for the Dallas graduation party.

Nick Smith puts soap on the head of Katie Szalkowski.

Robin Razawich and Lisa Giacometti joined forces to rinse the cars.

Paying strict attention to detail, Nick Smith cleans the wheel rims.

Cars got special care from Katie Szalkowski and Laura Morgan at the car wash.

GRAD 2006 really cleans up

They washed the doors and windows. They scrubbed the tires. And they used a hose to wash away the soap and dirt. Every car that left the parking lot of the New Mart convenience store in Trucks-ville meant there was another shiny car on the road. And it also meant the seniors at Dallas High School were one step close to having their annual graduation night party.

Students from the school recently held a car wash to raise money for the GRAD 2006 lock-in party. The popular annual event is held the night of graduation in the high school gymnasium. It is paid for through fund-raisers and donations from the community.

The lock-in committee is looking for a chairperson for the video committee, as well as volunteers for all committees. There will be a meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 12 in the high school library. All parents of Dallas High School students, regardless of grade level, are encouraged to attend and to get involved in the event.

Jackie Arnaud and Lisa Giacometti hold a sign to bring in customers.
