Dallas High School PTSO coat drive a success

The Parent Teacher Student Organization of Dallas High School recently held its annual Thanksgiving coat drive. New and gently-used coats were collected and donated to the Luzerne County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

"We donated nearly 300 coats this year," said Sharen Duddy, a PTSO steering committee member who co-chaired the program with Debbie Danko. "This has been the best response we've had over the last several years."

In addition to the high school's efforts, the PTO at Wycallis Elementary School also held a coat drive during American Education Week. Parents were invited to drop off donations while attending various school activities, including parent conferences and the second grade's hoedown.

"Wycallis' PTO had a very successful collection this year, also," said Duddy.

The PTSO steering committee organizes the coat drive and other such activities as one of its goals is to provide students with opportunities to perform community service. Each morning of the coat drive, members of Dallas Key Club and Students Against Destructive Decisions were on hand to help with the collection.

Students Ryan Duddy, Eric Danko and Andrew Judge helped deliver the coats to the CEO. They sorted the coats and hung them on racks according to size.

"It feels better to be here doing something nice for people instead of being in gym class," said sophomore Andrew Judge.

Needy families from the area were invited by the CEO to pick up a Thanksgiving food basket in addition to two coats per family.
