FORMER LAKE-LEHMAN STANDOUTS HONORED

The Lake-Lehman Girls Basketball Booster Club recently honored nine players who scored 1,000 career points during their playing days with the Lady Knights. Former players Shere Horvath, Danielle Kern, Pat Lopasky-Brooks, Kim Barbacci and Kelly Spencer attended a special ceremony before the start of last week's game against Coughlin. Joanne Martini, Tracy Turner, Ronda Hudzik and Wendy Skibitski have also reached the scoring milestone. The names of the players will be placed on a banner, which will be hung in the school gymnasium. Attending the ceremony, from left, are Horvath, Kern, Lopasky-Brooks, Barbacci and Spencer.

whose team competes in the WVC Division II. "I think we have a good chance to have a real good season."

The Lady Mountaineers rotate six players in the starting lineup, including four players who started last season as sophomores - Melissa Gorski, Erin Delaney, Danielle Krawetz and Lindsey Ellis. Seniors Stephanie Konecke and Lindsey McCabe are also members of the starting unit.

Noon says he has the depth to use as many as 12 players in a game. Seniors Brittany Allen, Alicia Evans and Devin Lacey are among the key players off the bench for Dallas.

"I think our depth is going to help us a lot," said Noon, whose team resumes its regular season Friday night at Bishop Hoban. "The attitude on the team is great. The players are here for each other. They've become a team. They each know they can do something to help us win."

While shooting was a concern earlier in the season, Noon says his team has improved.

"Our shooting percentage has gone up each week," he said. "We're getting better."

And that's one of the team's goals - especially in the talent-laden Division II.

"We have the strongest division around," said Noon, whose team opened regular season play with a double-overtime loss against GAR. "Look at the teams. There's not a bad team in the bunch. But we're also a good team. I like our team."
