

'Get a Clue @ Your Library' final party set

Members of the Gaslight Theatre Company of Wilkes-Barre will present an original performance of "The Web Files" at the final party of "Get a Clue @ Your Library" summer reading program at the Back Mountain Memorial Library. The production will begin at 1 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 16, and will be held outdoors on the grounds of the library.

The Gaslight Theatre Company was founded in 2003 with the support of King's College theatre department. In addition to performing such classics as "A Midsummer's Night Dream," "Oedipus," and "A Moon for the Misbegotten," the company has performed Robin Hood in 2006 and the Princess and the Pea in 2007 for children's theatre. The script for the production at the final party was written by local thespian Justin Scappaticci from the book, "The Web Files" by Margie Palatini.

Following the play, participants of "Get a Clue" who have completed their eight books or eight rooms on the game card will receive a certificate, a book and a mystery prize. The winners of "count the candy" contest and the library mysteries will be announced and awarded their prizes.

Refreshments compliments of the Pepsi Bottling Group of Wilkes-Barre and cookies from The Old Country Buffet will be served. The Old Country Buffet Bee will be on hand to greet the children and pose for pictures.

All readers and read-to-me participants are invited to the party to celebrate their successful summer of reading. Please call the library to register (675-1182).

Chief Inspector Fred the Bear and his friends, Sarah Berholtz on his left, Jonathan Berholtz and Adasia Thomas, sitting, are all looking forward to the final "Get a Clue @ Your Library" party next week! Fred was handsomely outfitted and decorated by library staff person Debby Kirkwood for the summer reading program.
