

Olivia Ostrowski, 7, Dallas, would choose her mom to be president "because she's creative, smart and she knows how to work a computer really well."

Adam Fargione, 8, Dallas, would vote for his mother to be president of the United States because "she makes great choices."

Seven-year-old Rayna Roberts of Shavertown would select her mother to be president because "she cooks good food."

Megan Daily, 7, Dallas, says her mom would make a better president than her dad "because she's very creative."

Christopher Hadsall thinks his dad would make a better president than his mom. Hadsall, 8, Trucksville, said, "cause he always takes me fishing on the first day of trout season."

Members of Mrs. Elizabeth Faerber's second grade class shared their reasons as to whether their mother or father would make a better president. Members of the class are, from left, first row, Makenna Bryant, Brianna Gula, Jessica Chinikaylo, Audrey Aristeo, Rayna Roberts, Olivia Ostrowski, Kaitlyn Kozick and Jaclyn Hodle. Second row, Jeffrey Buscher, Matthew Hunter, Joshua Kalna, Christopher Dautrich, Cole Wyffels, Ryan Spears, Jacob Dorris and Steven Finarelli. Third row, Joseph Fioti, Adam Fargione, Joshua Strausser, Matthew Mathers, Benjamin O'Connell, Christopher Hadsall and Mrs. Elizabeth Faerber, teacher.

The votes are in. In the spirit of Election Day which is on Tuesday, Nov. 6, children in Mrs. Elizabeth Faerber's second grade class at Wycallis Elementary School decided whether their mothers or fathers would make a better president of the United States and why. Here's how each of the pupils answered:

AUDREY ARISTEO, 7 Shavertown
Mom - "Because she's the one who takes care of me and gives me the food."
MAKENNA BRYANT, 7 Dallas
Mom - "Because she plays with me and I just see my dad at night and on the weekends."
JEFF BUSCHER, 7 Dallas
Dad - "He has the same me as me and he gives me candy and soda all the time."
JESSICA CHINIKAYLO,

7 Dallas
Mom - "She's funny."
MEGAN DAILY, 7 Dallas
Mom - "Because she's very creative."
CHRISTOPHER DAUTRICH, 7 Dallas
Dad - "Because he's nice."
JACOB DORRIS, 8 Dallas
