Rangers reign supreme

In the first round of playoffs in the Back Mountain Baseball Organization, the Rangers grabbed a convincing 18-0 victory over the Orioles. Greg Petorak is coach of the winning Rangers. Orioles player Jake Archer volunteered to pitch for his team and held up very well under loads of pressure while his teammate Adam Niznik played well in the catcher's position.

American and National League championships were scheduled for last week with the overall Major League championship game to be played this past Thursday. Watch the June 29 issue of The Dallas Post for results of those games.

Adam Niznik races to tag out Rangers runner Casey Barnett before he scores at home plate.

Covering second base is Casey Barnett for the Rangers which won the first playoff game, 18-0.

Matt Ross from the Orioles is ruled out at second base by the umpire.
