

Our Great Humanitarian

Congratulations!

- Rose Robacker
- ▶ NEWFOUNDLAND RESIDENT
- ▶ TEACHER EXTRAORDINAIRE
- ▶ FRANCISCAN NUN
- ▶ COUNSELOR, AUTHOR, VOLUNTEER

As a college freshman, Rose Robacker decided her life's work would be helping others. Since then she has had several careers and has worked as a volunteer in the ghettos of New York to the jailhouses in Wayne and Pike Counties. Rose served as a Franciscan nun for 28 years, earning three masters degrees from Notre Dame and Columbia Universities in chemistry, physics and theology.

She spent 47 years teaching chemistry and physics to high school and college students, writing several text books in the process. Retirement brought more opportunities to help people via tutoring, writing and involvement in community and national organizations.

Very devoted to eliminating adult literacy, Rose has spent the last 16 years teaching inmates to read, helping several obtain their GED degrees. She also instituted a program at the Wayne County jail on how to get a job and keep it, and is currently establishing a small library there.

Throughout Rose's eight decades, she has made a difference in the lives of many people.
