

MIDDLE SCHOOL PARTNERS WITH COUNTY JUVENILE PROBATION

In collaboration with Dallas Middle School's wellness program, Luzerne County Juvenile Probation presented a proactive program regarding decision making to all wellness classes in early October. Guest speaker Theresa Kline overviewed the juvenile justice system and the benefits of pro-social behaviors and making good choices with students. Shown here with students are, from left, Thomas Duffy, middle school principal; Theresa Kline, Luzerne County Juvenile Probation; Ken Kashatus, middle school wellness teacher; Jamie Harned, Luzerne County Juvenile Probation; and Anne Seitz, wellness department chairperson and event organizer.

Mickey and Barb Rowlands are the owners of Rowlands Greenhouse and Landscaping in Centermoreland. Their approximate 100-year-old house was originally a stagecoach stop along Route 292 which was purchased and remodeled by Barb's grandfather, Thomas, and his wife, Bonnie. The home became part of the Bonnie family farm. Their child, Anna, married Russell Miller and the two moved into the home.

"They are two people in this world that ... would give you the shirts off their backs."

They were Barb's parents. Because the land was once part of the family farm, Barb's sister, Marilyn Race, also lives near. Her sister, Ellen May, is returning to a house on the old farm land. "You lose the sentimental value of the house," May said. "They had their three children and grandchildren for dinner every Sunday. But I think they're also very grateful. They're torn between the difficulty of losing everything and the relief of not losing any lives. I used to work for Mickey with the greenhouses. I know a lot of people in the Dallas area come out and get their flowers there and have their landscaping done by them."

Mickey and Barb Rowlands are currently staying with their daughter, Amanda Bodin, of Falls. They plan to plow over the wreckage and rebuild the house.

May says his aunt and uncle are especially thankful because just one week before the blaze, their grandchildren stayed over and slept right where the fire started.

Anyone who cannot attend the luncheon but would like to help may donate to First Liberty Bank and Trust in care of the Northmoreland Baptist Church Benefit Fund for Mickey and Barb Rowlands. Donations are being accepted at all of the bank's locations.

LOCALS NAMED TO CUM LAUDE SOCIETY AT SEMINARY

Wyoming Seminary College Preparatory School recently inducted 11 students into the Cum Laude Society, the national academic honor society for college preparatory schools. The new inductees from the Back Mountain are seniors Sean Dickinson, Shavertown; Katherine Farias, Shavertown; Ryan Leas, Shavertown; and Katherine Levandoski, Dallas. The goal of the Cum Laude Society is the encouragement and rewarding of academic excellence. Wyoming Seminary's chapter of the society was established in 1930 and each year since then previous members of the organization elect new senior class members in both fall and spring. The students elected in the fall must have a junior-year average of at least 3.4 (out of a possible 4.0); the spring inductees must have attained a cumulative junior and senior year average of at least 3.1. Inductees must be in the top 10 percent of their class. Seen following the induction ceremony are, from left, first row, Katherine Levandoski and Katherine Farias. Second row, Sean Dickinson and Ryan Leas.
