Annual Dallas Horse and Pony Show set for May 9 at Luzerne Co. Fairgrounds

The Dallas Horse and Pony Show will be held on Sunday, May 10, at the Luzerne County Fairgrounds, Route 118, Dallas. Classes for hunters, equitation, pleasure and model entries will begin at 8 a.m.

A new feature will be the prestigious Marshall and Sterling class for children's equitation. A silent auction will also be held.

Proceeds from this year's show will benefit Bridles and

Grooms 4-H Horse Club and REASON (Retired Equine Adoption Society of the Northeast), a non-profit equine adoption organization dedicated to providing the first step to a new beginning for unwanted or rescued horses and ponies in need of caring homes.

Spectators are welcome at no charge. Coffee is free all day at the 4-H refreshment stand where home-cooked food will also be available for purchase.

The Dallas Horse and Pony Show is a popular tradition on Mother's Day with exhibitors from Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey competing for cash awards, ribbons, trophies, prizes and year-end points.

A member event of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Horsemen's Association, the Dallas Horse and Pony Show is an open horse show and exhibitors do not need to be members to participate.

PEOPLE BRIEFS

Sisters named to dean's list at Wyoming Sem

Katelyn Mericle of Shavertown, a junior at Wyoming Seminary, was named to the Dean's List with High Honors for the winter 2008-09 academic year, announced John Gordon, dean of the Upper School.

Her sister, senior Kelly Mericle, was named to the Dean's List. Kristen Mericle, eighth grade, was named to the Honor Roll at Lower School.

The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mericle of Shavertown.
