WAL-MART TEAMS UP WITH BACK MOUNTAIN LIBRARY

For the consecutive fourth year, Wal-Mart Supercenter has teamed with the Back Mountain Memorial Library in leading the way and highlighting the importance of early literacy development in pre-schoolers ages 3 to 6 by participating in Pennsylvania's One Book, Every Young Child Program.

A program presenting "If You Were a Penguin" is scheduled for 11 a.m. on Thursday, May 14, in the Children's Room that is appropriately decorated with snow, twinkling lights and, of course, penguins.

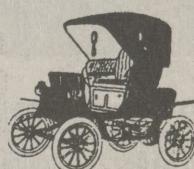

Jean Grube, a local talented singer, instrumentalist and teacher, will read the book to the children and then engage the children in songs, fingerplays, facts about penguins and lots of penguin puppet fun.

Following the program, each family will receive one paperback copy of the book along with bookmarks, stickers, and early literacy information for the parents, compliments of the Wal-Mart Supercenter.

The program, designed for pre-school age children, is free and open to the public but registration is necessary due to space limitations. Interested patrons may call the library at 675-1182 to register.
