Moms cheer young riders at horse show

There were plenty of mothers in the stands during the annual Dallas Horse and Pony Show last Sunday at the Luzerne County Fairgrounds. And each one of them was just as proud of their young riders as the next.

The show, which attracted about 100 equestrians competing in 50 different classes, benefited Bridles and Grooms 4-H Club and REASON - the Retired Equine Adoption Society of the Northeast - at Harveys Lake.

Cassie Cocco, of Dallas, jumps He's A Lucky Demon to victory.

Lindsay Jayne, of Dallas, hugs Bari Lefkowitz after her winning ride. The girls belong to Bridles and Groom 4-H Club, of Dallas, which sponsored the event.

Dave Evans, left, and Jill Linde manned the food booth for Bridles and Groom 4-H Club.
