

Barn Tag Sale adds $$$ to library's coffers

There were so many cars parked around the Back Mountain Memorial Library last Saturday, passersby thought the annual library auction was being held again. It wasn't but the final Farmers' Market of the season and a Barn Tag Sale were – and business at both was brisk. The Barn Tag Sale featured unsold items from this year's auction held in July.

Brand names sold at the tag sale included Lenox, Royal Doulton, Wedgewood and Baccarat. Some of the items at the sale included carnival glass, cut glass, cranberry glass, Depression glass, sterling silver and silver plate items.

Antique items included a Shabby Chic hall stand, seven-piece dining room suit, antique oak sideboard with mirror and shelving, postmaster sorting desk, cedar chest, wash stand, drop leaf table, marble top wash stand, dressers, chests, decorator items, dolls, jelly cupboard, pictures, mirrors and more.

The Nearly Olde Tent, Christmas Tent and Basket Tent offered unique items and a food booth had light lunches for shoppers. The Slightly Read Bookshop had a tent on the blacktop with books for sale.
