coholics Anonymous group and several churches. She and her family have also agreed to make Christmas dinner for the men.

But she knows it will take many more people to help with the men's stay at the camp and she hopes churches, civic organizations, high school groups and employers will step up.

"It's an opportunity and I'm really excited about it," Stull said. "I just need people to get excited about it with me."

According to Kabacinski, V.I.S.I.O.N. was servicing 25 to 30 men each night until the downfall of the economy. It is now accommodating 45 to 50 men per night and Kabacinski estimates the shelter has served 220 more men between January and October 2009 as compared to January through October 2008.

"We're seeing people that were our friends and neighbors," Kabacinski said. "We're seeing people in the shelters that used to come to us to help that are now looking for help."

Kabacinski says the past few years have also been trying for V.I.S.I.O.N. because of the consolidations and closings of many area churches. However, the organization has added six new shelter sites for the first six months of 2010, including a second stay at Camp Orchard Hill.

"Having a place like Camp Orchard is just that important to us because it is a Christian camp and I can't think of any other way for the Back Mountain community to celebrate the holiday," Kabacinski said. "The greatest gift mom and dad can give their family is to go during those weeks and celebrate with those who have nothing."

Alan and Evelyn Finlay receive MU trustee awards

Misericordia University honored Alan and Evelyn Finlay of Dallas by naming them recipients of the 2009 Trustee Associates Award during the annual Trustee Associates Awards Dinner in Sandy and Marlene Insalaco Hall on Saturday, Oct. 17.

The award is given annually to friends of the university who have demonstrated outstanding dedication, service and generous support to Misericordia in its tradition of a strong liberal arts education through the values of mercy, service, justice, and hospitality.

The Finlays are loyal, ardent supporters of the institution, giving generously of their time, talent and financial resources to benefit students and Northeastern Pennsylvania, alike.

Since he was appointed to the board in 1999, Mr. Finlay has provided invaluable leadership and sound advice as Misericordia has experienced unsurpassed growth in regional and national prestige and record enrollment, and also transitioned to university status.

Together, Mr. and Mrs. Finlay have demonstrated outstanding dedication, service and generous support to the Misericordia mission. Both immigrants from Northern Ireland, there is a tell-tale brogue when Mr. Finlay speaks of playing rugby and field hockey as a student at the Friends' School in Lisburn and coming to North America on a freighter at the age of 22, eventually settling in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Mrs. Finlay followed a year later and the two were married and started a family.

Mr. Finlay owned an insurance brokerage firm in Edmonton and, upon selling the company, a friend with roots in the Wyoming Valley asked him to join him in property development in Wilkes-Barre. The Finlays and their three children, Maureen, Wendy and Rob, arrived in the area just days after the Agnes Flood in 1972. Mr. Finlay's first business venture was completing the development and operating the Provincial Tower complex in downtown Wilkes-Barre.

As head of Humford Equities, Mr. Finlay has overseen the property management company's growth that has included development and management of a variety of commercial and residential properties, including shopping centers and office buildings throughout northeastern Pennsylvania.

Joining the Misericordia Board of Trustees in 1999, he lists among the highlights of his service the opportunity to bring Nobel Peace Prize recipient David Trimble, the First Minister of Northern Ireland, to Misericordia as commencement speaker in 2002. Recognized for helping find a peaceful solution to the conflict in Northern Ireland, Trimble has since been elevated to the British House of Lords.

The Finlays are the proud grandparents of six grandchildren: Heather, Andrew, Julie, Michael, Lauren and Ryan.

'Errors' coming to MU

The Misericordia University drama club, Misericordia Players, is presenting three performances of William Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors," beginning Thursday, Nov. 19, in Lemmond Theater in Walsh Hall. The Nov. 19-21 showings all begin at 8 p.m.

The bard's 1592 play was written with what has been described as slapstick humor filled with puns and wordplay. The play re-enacts the tale of a merchant on a journey to find his wife, twin sons and twin servants who have been lost at sea.

On his journey, he encounters many mishaps. After getting arrested, he must come up with his own ransom money by nightfall or else he will be put to death.

Performed by the Misericordia Players, Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" is made up of a cast and crew of 25 students under the direction of Donald Hopkins. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens with all proceeds benefitting the Misericordia Players.

For more information about the play, call the box office at 674-6719.
