giving, joking that he was bored. "During the whole thing he was saying, 'Oh, we know how to peel potatoes; you don't need to tell us how to do this' and he was snoring and everything," Russell said. "His producers were yelling at him because his microphone was on."

The two returned to Wilkes-Barre at about 5 p.m. which gave Russell just enough time to get her photos developed and do her homework before the "The Twilight Saga: New Moon" midnight premiere on Friday, Nov. 20 at Wilkes-Barre Movies 14 which she attended with her friends Alex Rego, Kaitlin Kean and Rego's older sister, Charissa Adams.

"We bought our tickets like a month ahead of time so we were in the first and biggest auditorium," she said.

Looking back on her exciting and fun-filled day, Russell had one more thought:

"They were really cute in person, both Taylor and Robert, and they seem like sweet guys," she said.

Trucksville residents Kaylin Russell, left, and her mother, Carol, attended the "Live with Regis and Kelly" on Nov. 19 after Kaylin won a contest on Twitter for two tickets to the show. "The Twilight Saga: New Moon" stars Robert Pattinson and Taylor Lautner both taped interviews on the set of the show that day.

plays basketball for her school in the winter.

Nathalie says the CTC improved her skills last year and she hopes to learn even more this year.

"I think it helped a lot because I played more doubles over the summer with my friends and I could see an improvement," she said. "It's the game that really interests me and the part of getting on the court and doing what you can do and hitting what you can hit and seeing yourself improve along the way. It's fun to see yourself and know you're getting better."

Anita Ghosh, 14, says she and her older brother, Bijoy, 17, were introduced to tennis on a family vacation with their parents, Sumit and Martha Ghosh.

"When I was eight and my brother was 10, we went to Hilton Head," Ghosh said. "My brother started there and I kind of started taking it more seriously when I was 10 because of my brother."

"It's a really, really big deal. It's quite an honor for these kids to be involved."

Ghosh is in the ninth-grade at Wyoming Seminary Upper School where she also plays third-level singles on the girls tennis team.

Ghosh started taking lessons at Birchwood Tennis and Fitness Center four years ago when she and her family moved to Dallas from Danville. This is her first year in the CTC.

"I hope to play against more kids, not just having lessons and stuff," Ghosh said. "It will be more fun and more people to meet and play with again after this."

Allison Joanlanne feels there is a local need for the CTC.

"It's definitely needed in this area," Allison Joanlanne said. "It's an actual fact that in the Middle States Section of the US- TA our district is the weakest as far as rankings go across the state, so we really need someone like Tim to do this in our section."
