REPORTER

The Times Leader will be hiring a versatile reporter who is able to cover everything from general assignments to the environment and the energy industry. The latter will include the legacy of anthracite coal mining to nuclear energy, from wind power to the energy extraction business.

On all assignments this reporter will be able to report clearly about meetings and create centerpiece stories. This reporter will be able to dig out the devil in the details. Strong writing will be essential to provide readers with the stories of people and the relevance and impact of energy trends. This reporter will take a lead role in our coverage of gas extraction and the significance and consequence to Northeastern Pennsylvania.

The reporter will be part of a hard-working newsroom that values immediacy, thoroughness and dedication. The Times Leader also embraces print, online and emerging media and the reporter needs to be comfortable using new technologies.

The ideal candidate will have: at least two years of experience in reporting for a daily newspaper or website; can identify and pursue good story ideas; has a clean, authoritative writing style; and recognizes and meets deadlines.

Please send a letter of interest and resume to:

Joseph Butkiewicz,
The Times Leader,
15 N. Main Street,
Wilkes-Barre PA 18711 or jbutkiewicz@timesleader.com.
Please, no phone calls.
