

Sports

John Minick, of Northeast, works a move on Ty Walter, of Benton, in the Roman Greco 160-pound bout.

Mike Forba, of Tunkhannock, cheers on a friend during a Roman Greco bout.

Aaron Kennedy, of Honesdale, ties up with Jordan Visnecki, of Dallas, in a Roman Greco 119-pound bout.

Wrestlers come from across U.S. to compete in Benton

The Benton Tigers Wrestling Club hosted a Pennsylvania State Qualifier Tournament for Freestyle and Greco Roman wrestling on March 28 at the Benton Elementary School. Amateur wrestlers from all over the country participated in the tournament.

Blake Bowman, of Tri-Valley, gets tied up by Mike Roosa, of Benton, in a Roman Greco 145-pound bout.

FRED ADAMS PHOTOS/ FOR THE DALLAS POST

ARRIS ENGINEERING GRABS TITLE

The Arris Engineering Sparks defeated Quad 3 Group Storm to become the champions in the 7th and 8th grade girls' division of the Dallas Youth Basketball League. Arris Engineering finished the regular season with nine wins and one loss. From left, first row, are Kylee Saba, Talia Szatkowski and Kayla Glecko. Second row, Sadie Trudgen, Lindsay Oremis, Heaven Pratz and Kaylee Polachek.

DALLAS FIFTH-GRADE TEAM ENDS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Dallas Youth fifth-grade girls' team recently completed a successful season, finishing with an overall season record of 19-5, placing third in a Wyoming Valley West Tournament and second in the CYC Sunday League. Team members are shown here after a first-place win at Wyoming Area Catholic. From left, first row, are Sara Lojewski and Talia Kosierowski. Second row, Maddie Kelley, Breiana Coolbaugh, Courtney Devens, Paige Evans and Rachel Maniskas. The team is coached by Chad Lojewski and Len Kelley.