Dennis Bonvie to attend Boy Scouts event May 8

Dennis Bonvie, formerly of the Wilkes-Barre Scranton Penguins, will be at Kirby Park in Wilkes-Barre Saturday, May 8, to support the Boy Scout's 100th birthday and Scout-o-Rama. Bonvie will sign autographs from 1 to 3 p.m.

Area Scouts will set up exhibits in the Kingston Armory.

The event is open to Scouts and to the public and will feature hands-on Scouting favorites as well as non-traditional Scout activities. The booths will range from an archery and b.b. gun range to knot tying and compass reading.

In addition, there will also be paint ball sling shot, a catapult and bottle rockets. About 70 booths are expected to be showcased.

Attendance fee is $15 per Scout or $20 per family of up to six people with $5 for any additional friend or family member. Family members under the age of 6 attend for free. Boys in grades one to 12 can join the Scouts on this day.

There will be entertainment for all Scouts and the public at 8 p.m.

There is still space available inside and outside the armory to showcase any business or activity that caters to youth ages 6 to 18. Advertising space is available in the 100th anniversary booklet which will contain Scouting history and information.

For additional information, contact Scout Executive Tom Slavicek at tslavicek@nepabsa.org or 207-1227.
