Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

'One Book' program set for May 5 at library

State program, highlighting importance of literacy development, in fifth year.

For the fifth consecutive year, Pennsylvania's One Book, Every Young Child program will lead the way and highlight the importance of early literacy development in preschoolers ages 3 to 6.

The Back Mountain Memorial Library will once again take part in this endeavor by presenting a special One Book program at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, May 5, in the Children's Room of the library.

Jean Grube will read the PA One Book to the children and then lead them in songs, finger-plays and puppet fun! Grube is an adjunct faculty member of Misericordia University in the Fine Arts Department teaching voice and is also the director of the youth choirs at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Lehman.

The selection for this year's program is "What a Treasure!" by Jane and Will Hillenbrand. Since the book was published in 2006, children have been accompanying Mole on his dig as he discovers exciting treasures for both his animal friends and for himself.

Each child in attendance will receive a paperback copy of the book, stickers, a bookmark and a parents' guide to reading fun. Parents are asked to register their child by calling the library at 675-1182.

The One Book, Every Young Child program goes far beyond just giving parents and caregivers a book to read to preschoolers. The program's design is based on studies showing that simply reading a book is not enough. Adults must find ways to engage children in activities like talking about a book's cover and illustrations, discussing the action in the book and favorite parts, pretend play related to the book and more.

Through this program, adults with preschoolers in their lives will learn how they can support the development of literacy in preschool children. Because it is important for children to be prepared for school, One Book, Every Young Child will provide opportunities for adults to read aloud and share books, stories and related activities with preschoolers. These activities have been shown to be crucial to early learning.

In its inaugural year, the One Book, Every Young Child program won the coveted, national John Cotton Dana Library Public Relations Award.

Back Mountain Memorial Library volunteer Jean Grube reads to Fred the bear, the Children's Room mascot.
