Lake-Lehman prom goes 'Hollywood'

Following a "Hollywood" theme, juniors and seniors from Lake-Lehman High School were stars for the night at a prom held May 21 at Gus Genetti's in Wilkes-Barre.

The prom, arranged by the juniors for the seniors, attracted 293 students attired in their Hollywood best who danced the night away to music by a disc jockey.

Katelyn Dawsey was named Prom Queen while Drew Groblewski served as Prom King. Members of the Prom Court included Adam Holena, Adam Supey, Chris Prater, Pat Moss, Erica Johnson, Leigh Hillman, Annie VanScoy and Sara Casterline.

Members of the Prom Committee were Rebecca Farrell, Courtney Sult, Avery DeFranco, Kami Saxe and Stevie Kioski.

Auction items sought

The Committee for the Nearly Olde and Collectible Booth of the Back Mountain Memorial Library Auction is asking college and high school art students who may have unwanted art stored to consider donating the art to the Back Mountain Memorial Library Auction Nearly Olde Booth.

Of special interest are pottery, stoneware, sculptures, blown glass, jewelry and wood. Cottage Keepers is still accepting small furniture, lamps and pictures. Attic Treasures in the gazebo would like donations of primitives and vintage items.

Anyone who has a special collection and would like to donate it may call the library at 675-1182.
