PAI presents free recitals and concerts at Seminary

Fans of dance, classical and jazz music and musical theater are invited to visit the Wyoming Seminary Upper School campus in Kingston often this summer as the students and teachers participating in the Performing Arts Institute (PAI) present a series of free recitals, concerts and performances in June, July and August.

The schedule of 30 performances will begin at 8 p.m. on Monday, June 2, with a Counselor Solo and Chamber Recital in the Great Hall of Wyoming Seminary, 228 Wyoming Ave., just north of Kingston Corners. The schedule concludes at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 7, with a Grand Finale in both the Great Hall and the Buckingham Performing Arts Center, North Sprague Avenue, on the campus of the Upper School.

Among this season's highlights are a free concert at 8 p.m. on Saturday, July 3, in the Great Hall, featuring the nationally-recognized violinist Dr. Lewis Wong in a performance of the Fifth Brandenburg Concerto; President Obama's Own Woodwind Quintet in a free performance on Tuesday, July 20, in the Great Hall; an exciting free dance performance featuring a variety of dance styles at 3 p.m. on Sunday, July 25, in the Buckingham Performing Arts Center; a free performance of fascinating world music by the unique Quey Percussion Duo at 8 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 1, in the Great Hall; and an exuberant production of the Broadway hit musical "Two Gentlemen of Verona" at 8 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, Aug. 5 and 6, at the F.M. Kirby Center for the Performing Arts in Wilkes-Barre. Tickets are $18 for adults, $10 for students and senior citizens and will be available in advance and at the door.

Among the many accomplished musicians and artists serving this year's Institute as faculty are Maestro Lawrence Loh, music director of the Northeast Pennsylvania Philharmonic; Dr. Victor Liva, music director and conductor of the Cleveland Philharmonic; Steve Fidyk, drummer with the Army Blues Jazz Ensemble, Washington, D.C.; and Dave Bixler, professional recording saxophone musician and head of jazz studies at Montclair University.

For more information about the summer program or the concert series, call the Office of Summer Programs at Wyoming Seminary at 270-2186.
